

Please, do not mess with Indiana's law regarding telemarketing.

It is so nice not to be bothered, with people trying to sell something that we don't want. All it does is make me mean to that poor soul on the other end of the line.